

HANGING GARDENS

Entering the Hanging Gardens is entering a mystical scavenger hunt. In this immersive space you are embodying a worried Ent named Phoebe. Phoebe has five friends in this garden but they have all gone missing! Each guards over a separate part of the garden and without them the garden grows barren and desolate. Find your friends and restore the beauty of the Hanging Gardens.

Phoebe comes from a long lineage of Ents that watch over the hanging gardens. Each has a small plant growing from their heads that grant them power and unlimited knowledge of all things ethereal. Around their heads are a photosynthetic sack that collects water from the atmosphere to keep their plants alive.

Her specific plant is the bonsai tree. With the bonsai symbolizing balance, peace and all that is good in nature, Phoebe is extra careful about keeping the gardens in check. Her friends can be mischievous however and love to keep her on her toes.

There are five separate biomes to explore; search the lands for the lost friends. Once you find each of the guardians you must restore them to their pedestals of matching color. The pedestals are where each guardian can look out across their biome and use their magic skills to keep things growing. Only then will the flowers bloom for you to pick up. See if you can find all five and restore the splendor of the Hanging Gardens.

Help Phoebe find their friends so you can experience the wonder of the Hanging Gardens!
